

Fig. 7.7. Electronic band structure of inorganic crystals. Besides the formation of free electrons and holes, loosely coupled electron-hole pairs known as excitons are formed. Excitons can migrate through the crystal and be captured by impurity centers